Fund Overview

Northeast Investors Trust (NTHEX) is a no-load, high yield bond fund whose primary objective is the production of income.

The Trust focuses on marketable securities of established companies that are believed to provide reasonable income and, where consistent with the primary objective, may potentially have capital appreciation. This includes bonds, preferred stocks, dividend paying common stocks, securities convertible into common stocks and securities with warrants attached.

The Trust mainly invests in higher yielding and unrated or lower rated debt securities (commonly referred to as "junk bonds") to produce income for the shareholders.

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. The Trust invests in lower rated debt securities which may be subject to increased market volatility based on factors such as: the ability of an issuer to make current interest payments, the potential for principal loss if an issuer declares bankruptcy, and the potential difficulty in disposing of certain securities in a timely manner at a desired price and therefore can present an increased risk of investment loss.
